Some Township Board Members Appear Ready to Change Their Positions on Pinnacle

Pinnacle—New Wayne County Administration, Same Results?

BY MARGARET O'KELLEY

At the August 27th Board Meeting, the public got the first hint that several Board members may be prepared to join Trustee Adkins and O'Kelley in their long opposition to the positions that were taken by the Township in their dealings with the Wayne County Pinnacle Project.

Several Board members now seem ready to become more aggressive in their dealings with the county. This is a far cry from the times when Trustee O'Kelley could not even get a "second" to request the county to appear before the Board to answer questions.

Several representatives from the county appeared before the Board at the August 27th meeting and several Board members expressed their disappointment. The county had been invited to speak at the meeting at the urging of Trustee Krause who seems to have taken a new interest in the matter. She and Trustee Carey prepared a series of questions and had sent them to the county a few days earlier. They seemed to expect the county to fully respond to the questions but were disappointed when only a few were addressed at the meeting. The county did promise to respond to all the questions and share them with all the Board members.

Deb Hoadley, representing the county, addressed the Board and said she was there to answer some of the Board's questions and concerns. She volunteered that the county was monitoring the property for illegal dumping. She said areas around the abandoned houses were now being mowed, including the easement.

Supervisor Mitchell asked if all the property had been acquired and had a prime developer been chosen. The county's response was there were some properties that were still being litigated. Wayne County Attorney Steven Collins said the Appellate Courts have ruled in the favor of the county and he hoped for quick action from the Michigan Supreme Court.

Regarding the prime developer, the county said they had not chosen one yet but stated that several developers had contacted them and seemed interested in developing on the property.

Trustee Carey mentioned the faxing of a three-page document with questions included. She expressed some concern that the county people did not seem prepared to answer the questions. She said her concerns were over the dumping operation on the property. She questioned water bills and the two fire trucks on the Sibley Road property. She also questioned the status of the abandoned homes.

The county responded that the water bill issue would be addressed, the fire trucks would be removed, and the bids for removal of the houses had been sent out.

Trustee O'Kelley asked when the county would be prepared to provide the Township with their conceptual drawings for the use of the land. He did not get a direct answer. He asked if the county would be interested in the Township's input on the use of the land. When the county responded they would be interested, O'Kelley suggested to the Board they might want to consider having a workshop to gather their ideas.

O'Kelley then asked about the status of the 60-day extension that was granted the county to implement the requirements of the township regarding the permit to dump dirt and concrete on the property. The county responded they were working on it. O'Kelley reminded them they had 30 days remaining. He urged them to consider themselves in an emergency situation and urged them not only to come up with an agreement but also to implement the agreement by the time of the next Board of Appeals meeting.

The Board of Appeals Commission will next address the issue of the dumping operation that is going on the Pinnacle Property at the October meeting. The Weekly will continue to watch this particular phase of the development because this appears to have been the reason why several Board members are now willing to reconsider their view regarding the Pinnacle Project.

New Boston Resident Shelly DeLano Appointed Romulus Head Librarian

BY MARGARET O'KELLEY

Lifetime resident of Huron Township, Shelly DeLano, was appointed Head Librarian at the Romulus Library which is part of the Wayne County Library System.

Shelly was a graduate of Huron High School, received her Undergraduate Degree from Eastern Michigan University and her MLIS from Wayne State University in 1993.

She began her career by helping restack books in the high school library and was later hired as a full time library aide.

Shelly began working at the Romulus Library in 1991. As a well qualified and long term employ it is only fitting that Shelly be appointed to the position. She said it was her love of reading the directed her to the profession.

Shelly has been the Youth Services Librarian at the library since 1994 and says she wants to work on community outreach in her new role.

The site of the Library, at Wayne Road and Goddard, isn't exactly an ideal location, she said. With the airport centrally located, sometimes it is easier for residents to travel to libraries in other communities, commented Shelly.

She wants to remind the public of the many services the library provides. The Internet service: the computers are rarely free of patron and there was a great response to their summer reading program.

According to Shelly, the last time the library was able to do a mass mailing community outreach was with the help of a $70,000 grant, but those kinds of funds are not available often. "I'd like to be able to do that kind of thing on a regular basis," she said.

Shelly said she was looking forward to her new role and she would be on hand at the library everyday. She said she would always be available to answer questions, even if she doesn't know the answers to them. Shelly stated, "In fact, that is one of the main roles of the librarian. We don't know everything, but we know where to send people to get answers to their questions".

Shelly DeLano resides in New Boston with her husband, Art. Her family includes three sons, Jeremy, Bryan and Eric, Eric's wife Jessica and a grandson Cody.

She also wanted to mention she is a member of St. Stephen's Parish.

Rep. Law to Bill Gates: Stop Dumping in My Community

SUBMITTED BY:
STATE REP. KATHLEEN LAW

You gotta love Bill Gates. He's not content to merely trash the competition in the computer world. Now he's trashing Michigan communities. The billionaire computer magnate, in Detroit today to speak to the Detroit Economic Club, owns the controlling interest in Republic Services, the corporation that owns Carleton Farms Landfill in Sumpter Township. The landfill takes in all of the city of Toronto's trash.

"Republic Services' policies have created massive regional dumps that maximize their profits at the expense of local communities," said State Representative Kathleen Law (D-Gibraltar). "This must stop now."

More than 200 trucks full of Toronto trash stampede into Sumpter Township everyday - speeding through neighborhoods, destroying roads, spraying sludge on yards and mailboxes and, in two separate instances, smuggling 50 lbs. of marijuana and $539,000 in cash across the border.

Law has led the fight to end the stranglehold that Toronto trash has on her community. She is pushing two pieces of legislation that will regulate the amount of trash that other states and Canada can dump in Michigan communities like Sumpter Township. The bills are:

House Bill 4098, which allows Michigan to reject trash from states that have a regulatory system less stringent than the rules we impose on ourselves; and

House Bill 4099, which adds returnable containers to the list of items prohibited from disposal in Michigan landfills.

The bills were introduced in January, but have been languishing in the House Land Use and Environment Committee. For seven months, Law and other lawmakers have waged an intensive campaign to stop the trash. They have conducted nearly a dozen town hall meetings in communities across the state, including

Rep. Kathleen Law with the Trash-o-meter.

Sumpter Township. Law also recently introduced a new weapon in the fight against out-of-state trash - the Trash-O-Meter, a device that measures in real time the amount of imported trash that enters Michigan.

"Mr. Gates probably wouldn't be thrilled if Vancouver was sending all of its trash to Medina, Washington", said

Law, referring to the city that the Gates family calls home. "I guarantee that he wouldn't enjoy seeing his community trashed and his quality of life disrupted and diminished."

New Photo Club

Do you enjoy photography? If so there is a new club in town that may interest you. The Negative Exposure Camera Club is a newly formed club (about 8 months old) that meets monthly in New Boston. It is for photographers from beginner to professional level, anyone that is interested in going beyond point and shoot. We have members that are just learning how to shoot 35mm manual cameras to members that shoot weddings. We have informal competitions within the club and have even entered contests like the Metro Times Photo Contest in which one of our members "Steve Kozmor" took an honorable mention.

This club formed for the main purpose of having fun and learning from each other. Tired of the formal aspects of most clubs, our club has no dues, by laws or rules. We just enjoy each others company and enthusiasm to keep motivated. We meet at least once a month and sometimes more often for field trips, shows, outings or model shoots.

We have touched on color, black and white, shooting models, children, developing etc. Some of our upcoming subjects will be hand painting black and white photos, infrared film, printing own photos (darkroom) and mounting.

So if you share our love of the art of photography or just want to learn more about it, please join us for our next meeting in September. For date, time and location, or just to ask more about us, call: Sheryl Eberhardt, 734-735-0788. If you get my voice mail leave a message

Tips from Tina

TIPS FROM A TO Z

PETS — Drop a few ice cubes in your pet's water dish on hot days to help keep the water fresh.

QUILTS — Old quilts can be used if cut up into pieces to make hot dish holders. Cut 2 pieces that are the same size and sew them together.

RUGS — Place a rubber tub mat under the rug if it is slipping in the bathroom, or other places you find that the rug is slipping.

SALT — Put rice in your salt shaker to keep it free-flowing on humid days.

TISSUE — When you buy a new box of tissue, if used in the bathroom or near a place where it might get wet, turn the box over and put thumb tacks in the bottom corners of the box. This will keep the box up high enough so the water stays away from the box.

Your Cosmic Look For The Week Of September 4 - September 10

For entertainment only!

Virgo Aug 24 - Sept 23

Days brighten as night life livens. Find rest when can but don't forget to take care of your personal needs. Keep children in line in old fashioned ways? Be true to self. 938

Libra Sept 24 - Oct 23

Vacant sign does not give you excuse to not function. Children pester for extra items not needed. Take time to rest before big event comes, but be prepared for unseen. 8276

Scorpio Oct 24 - Nov 22

Keep faith displayed for others to see. Lost time in bed may only produce unwanted results. Caution blows in wind. Find time to hear the warnings and take heed now. 000

Sagittarius Nov 23 - Dec 21

All is well in time, but now is not that time. Take children for fun day with family and friends. Look in wishing well for truth to life. Buy fresh pies at friend's business. 376

Capricorn Dec 22 - Jan 20

Favorite relative sends you warning. Be prepared to travel. Keep time with those who plan to outrun you to finish line. Spend a day in toon land but return to reality. 3387

Aquarius Jan 21 - Feb 19

Less time with family is not an option right now. Look to winter to escape the riff. Feelings hurt not to heal soon but just say "oh well" and go on life's merry way. 4449

Pisces Feb 20 - Mar 20

Finding one who understands is not likely in near future. Travel alone in your plans to find truth. You have warned all you love of future. It is their choice to take heed. 0000

Aries Mar 21 - April 20

Look for one who needs your help but... but move with great caution. Think twice before you jump off first bridge you see. Keep children happy at local animal farm. 3390

Taurus April 21 - May 21

Nothing new in your bag of tricks? Might be time to change location. Look to sky for answers but don't believe all you see coming at you. Someone close to you is hurt by your words. 339

Gemini May 22 - June 21

Time to talk to doctor about unspoken problem. Others encourage you to find answers to big puzzle. Family helps you but one is not happy. Is the wedge driven too deep? 2987

Horoscopes

William Grover

Cancer June 22 - July 23

You ask who loves you the most. Think before you walk to the other for marriage. Life deals you ugly blow but don't blame mirror for your own faults. Keep in your own lane this week. 445

Leo July 24 - Aug 23

Spread too thin this year to enjoy any of what you do. Others wonder why you do what you do but enjoy every minute what you do. Keep family smiling with your special ways. Someone needs you now. 343

New Boston Market: Keeping Community in Mind

Eddie, the proprietor of New Boston Market, and his crew are extending an invitation to one and all to come in and check out the new interior of the store and maybe shop a while. Eddie also has plans for redoing the exterior of the store.

EDITOR'S NOTE: During the blackout, Eddie's son sold their stock of bottled water and ice at the price they had paid for it (at cost). Eddie said they were trying to just do the right thing for their friends and neighbors under the circumstances.

The interior of the New Boston Market is all bright and new — check it out!
